Management

25X1A9a

1. Messrs. [REDACTED] have been considering ways in which the Management Course might be expanded. There is sufficient material available to justify an extension of time, but no decision has been reached on the best method of scheduling. A memorandum recommending changes will be prepared soon for consideration by C/IS and DTR.

2. The Faculty, with the assistance of several volunteers, experimented with a "Business Game" which has been described briefly in the periodical, Operations Research. We feel that there is some value in this exercise, but we are not yet familiar enough with it and its possibilities to incorporate the game or a modification thereof into the Management Course.

General

25X1A9a

The Faculty discussed at some length the probable difficulties involved in presenting a special course for RI. Within the next few days, Mr. [REDACTED] will meet with Mr. [REDACTED] in order to get a clearer understanding of what the RI problems appear to be.
